

Because learners thrive in a connected community

Why we need trust...

- for our users information
- for business critical services
- for who we share with

Trust is earned by behaviour

Transparency

Communicate clearly about what we collect and what we do. Be open to interrogation and discussion.

Ethics

Treat all data as if it was your own. Be accountable and responsible for what has been provided.

Responsiveness

Prioritise security and privacy above all else. Resolve issues promptly and support other parties to do so as well.
